

What it is

EduFire Toolkit is a European project aiming to raise awareness among secondary school students of the wildfire-climate change connection and individual and collective wildfire risk reduction actions. We achieve this through the development of an open-access platform with teaching resources fitting within the school curriculum.

Partners

@edufire_toolkit

@EduFire_Toolkit

info@paucostafoundation.org

Project Coordinator: Pau Costa Foundation

EDUFIRE TOOLKIT

www.edufiretoolkit.eu

Co-funded by the European Union

Key features

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

INTER
DISCIPLINARITY

CRITICAL THINKING

TOOLKIT

For teachers

Challenges to pose to students to solve real-life problems.

Activities to apply the Project-Based Learning methodology.

Guidelines to help students face the challenges and to engage the community.

For teachers and students

Units with concepts to support the teaching and learning process.

More details

- Age-group tailored: 12 to 14- and 14 to 16-year-olds.
- Tested in secondary schools.
- Contribute to developing STEAM skills.
- Applicable to local contexts.
- Developed by an international team of education, forestry and wildfire experts.
- Multilingual: English, Spanish, Portuguese, Catalan.
- Freely available on our website through registration.

www.edufiretoolkit.eu